STEP 1: You Talk, We Listen

Our sourcing team works to match your needs with the best resources available. Sometimes requests are fully developed specifications, sometimes they are simply concepts. SLH is excited to collaborate with you, listen to your ideas, interpret them in CAD, and produce model room samples so that we can bring your concept to life.

STEP 2: Manage, Mock-Up, Produce

We assign a Project Manager and Product Development Manager to every job. This ensures centralized communication with a team of dedicated experts, logistics wranglers, and production liaisons who will take your project from concept through production.

STEP 3: Facilitate, Ship, Install

Collaboration between our U.S.-based project teams and our Asia-based quality control teams ensures smooth execution of complicated custom designs that surpass expectations. We can coordinate ocean and inland shipping so that your installers have what they need, when they need it. Once delivered, our field technicians can be on hand to assist with installation and touch up.
